

Smithsonian Associates Presents: Hog Island Handout

Matt Felperin, Roving Naturalist

1. The Legacy of Hog Island

<https://hogisland.audubon.org/about/legacy-hog-island>

<https://hogislandmaine.historyit.com/story.php>

This page on the Hog Island website introduces the rich history of Hog Island dating back to the native Abenaki people through its use as an educational and research center today. From here, you can find further resources on the history of Hog Island in addition to checking out the rest of the website (including how to register for programs). I included a second link here focused on history as well.

2. More about Project Puffin

<https://seabirdinstitute.audubon.org/about/what-was-project-puffin>

Audubon's web page on Project Puffin, including the history, geography, and how you can help!

3. Dr. Steve Kress Delivers a Presentation on Project Puffin for the 50 year Anniversary

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Ek7HgBgHmrc>

Hear from the man himself who started Project Puffin just over 50 years ago! In this presentation, Dr. Steve Kress goes over his implementation of the project, challenges faced, and the status and future direction of Project Puffin.

4. LIVE Audubon Wildlife Cams in Maine

<https://seabirdinstitute.audubon.org/conservation/audubon-live-cams>

Watch a variety of migratory wildlife around Hog Island LIVE seasonally 24/7; including puffins, ospreys, seals, and more! This gives you an in depth look at typical behaviors of each of these species around the clock from the context of Hog Island and the surrounding ecosystem.
