

IN PERSON ART + HISTORY:
NATIONAL GALLERY & SMITHSONIAN
Friday, Jan. 17, 2025

Study Leader: Paul Glenshaw's career covers several disciplines, all fueling the same goal: storytelling. He is currently developing his popular online Art+History presentations for public television and is in production on three documentaries on French-American history. His film The Lafayette Escadrille has been broadcast nationwide since 2021 on public television. He is an expert in the history of early aviation and was a longtime contributor to Air & Space Smithsonian magazine. He has also written for publications ranging from Racquet magazine to the Folger Library's Shakespeare and Beyond blog. A practicing artist, he teaches drawing for the Smithsonian Associates. He began his career at the National Gallery of Art. He is a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis.
